DES MOINES OFFICE

An inventor and entrepreneur, Todd Van Thomme's experience with his own start-up company helps him understand both the legal challenges and the day-to-day issues of running a business.

In his intellectual property practice, Todd partners with clients to identify and collaborate on mechanical, chemical, nutraceutical, pharmaceutical, and food science-related intellectual property needs. He drafts and prosecutes both utility and design patent applications. He also drafts patentability, non-infringement, and invalidity opinions, especially for patents and patent applications. He counsels clients on how to avoid IP disputes and works with clients to resolve them when they do occur. Todd also prepares, files and prosecutes trademark applications.

"Because they are inventors and innovators, I get to work with some of the smartest people on the planet every day," Todd says. "In their fields, they're absolutely brilliant. We develop relationships, and they teach me about their inventions. Many times my clients become some of my closest friends."

His combination of legal and entrepreneurial experience brings unexpected benefits for clients. As a former secondment in-house counsel for Whirlpool Corp. and the inventor and owner of Giftzapz, a unique patent pending gift list-sharing app, Todd has gained a client's perspective of a business. As a result, he understands the importance of legal and business advice that is both strategic and cost-effective.

He talks about benefits and risks with his clients—offering them the choices available and providing recommendations—without forcing a decision on them. "Often, I internalize the client's problem," he says. "I become vested in their problems—and finding solutions."

As president of the Association of Intellectual Property Firms, Todd developed close personal relationships with thought leaders in the larger intellectual property legal community around the world. He uses those personal connections to aid clients in protecting their IP worldwide, taking a globally strategic view of patent and trademark prosecution.

That mix of experiences helps Todd achieve his main goal: partnering with his clients to identify and strategically protect their IP assets, brands, products, and processes. "Every new product is dear to its creator," Todd says. "I endeavor to help them protect it the best I can."

CLIENT REFERENCES:

"Todd is extremely responsive and collaborative. On numerous occasions, Todd has listened to my needs as in-house counsel and has customized his work product to incorporate my feedback. I encourage others to consider Todd for great results and a good value."

—Vince Egolf, director—IP and Products Counsel, Bissell Homecare, Inc.

"Todd is highly creative and an insightful attorney committed to timely and detailed deliverables that assist his clients to maximize the value of their protected innovations."

—Kirk Goodwin, chief patent counsel, North American Region & senior counsel, Global Information Systems, Whirlpool Corporation

"I've had the pleasure to work with Todd for about three years. He and his firm have worked on dozens of patent applications for our company in various technology areas. The work is of high quality and the relationship works well with good give and take. I heartily endorse Todd's services."

—Steven Kuehl, principal technologist, Whirlpool Corporation

"I have worked with Todd for a number of years on various patents and trademarks. Todd is great at explaining the patent and trademark legal process. I have greatly appreciated his commonsense approach in regard to legal expenditures related to patents and trademarks. I would highly recommend to anyone needing legal advice for patents and trademarks to work with Todd."

—Michael Sorenson, president and GM, Milne Fruit Products Inc.

"I have worked with Todd for a number of years on a variety of projects, and I can verify that he is 100 percent professional and always a pleasure to collaborate with. He goes the extra mile in terms of learning as much as he can to make sure he fully understands our business objectives as well as the markets in which we operate. I would recommend Todd without reservation for any IP-related project; you will get top-notch advice, very fair pricing, and timely attention."

—Mike Callahan general counsel/director of operations, Stiles Machinery, Inc.

"For the past four years, Todd has been the primary IP counsel for OrVance. In that time, I have worked with Todd on U.S. and international copyrights, copyright infringement letters, multiple patents, and discussions with patent examiners. With Todd's guidance and expertise, OrVance has been successful in all of these matters. Todd's ability to listen, his technical background, his attention to detail, and his first-rate character have been and continue to be an important part of OrVance. Having worked with multiple IP attorneys over the years, I would put Todd at the top of my list."

—Mike Silver, managing partner, director of technical affairs and operations, OrVance LLC
